

PROJECT 4: SCAVENGER HUNT

Directions: Host a scavenger hunt for the hunger. Gather your students together in groups and make lists of items that would help the hungry during the holidays. Be sure to include non-perishable items. Have a spokesperson from each group read the list aloud. Compile the lists into one large class list. Type the list and print one copy. Give each student part of the list and instruct them to ask family and friends to contribute the items and return them to the school. If possible, lead the students on a field trip to deliver the items.

If a field trip is not realistic, have the students decorate brown bags with notes in colorful markers to the recipients of the food.

Help the Hungry!

Add these ideas to your food lists:

Canned Vegetables
Canned Fruit
Peanut Butter
Cooking Utensils
Tooth paste
Tooth Brushes
Soap

Guide the students into a class discussion with the following questions:

1. What does non-perishable mean?
2. Why is it important for our donations to be non-perishable?
4. What do you think it feels like physically to be hungry?
4. What do you think it means like emotionally to be hungry?
5. What does it feel like emotionally to help someone?
